THE STEAMERS STORY

In 1994, Steamers co-owner Linda Coats not only came up with Steamer Pots To Go®, the original Outer Banks New England-style clambake, but also a restaurant recipe for success: combine the high quality food of a big city restaurant with the casual atmosphere and fresh seafood of the beach, and vacation-going families and their friends will keep coming back. First located in Corolla, NC, Steamers has stood as a beacon for fresh & gourmet seafood on the Outer Banks for over two decades.

That's countless numbers of soft shell crabs supplied by a local family of crabbers. That's untold mornings of chef Chris Braswell on the line with the local fishing fleet as they bring in the catch of the day. That's...well, who knows how many Steamer Pots To Go®.

Thank you for being a part of it all.
